Kidnaped Chilean Army Colonel Still Held

A Chilean Army colonel kidnaped in September remains a prisoner of the Manuel Rodriguez Patriotic Front (FPMR). In late October, Colonel Carreno's captors issued a statement promising the colonel's release if the government would distribute $250,000 in foodstuffs to slumdweller and allow all of Chile's political exiles to return. The Pinochet government rejected negotiations and thousands of troops were deployed in house-to-house searches in the capital. [REDACTED]

The Communists claim that Carreno has been cooperating with the FPMR and that he already has provided sensitive military information. [REDACTED]
